

Growing in Grace: Exploring Our Yes to the Call to Serve

Dear WVIS Alumni, Students, and Friends,

You are invited to a two-day program where together we will explore our individual calls to follow God and discern how that call resonates in our lives today.

Through informative presentations, small and large group reflection, and experiential processes we will reexamine how WVIS's unique formation model – blending the teachings of Adrian van Kaam and Ignatius of Loyola – informs spiritual growth and our call to discernment.

Rekindle relationships or spark new ones as we walk in support of one another in living out our Yes to God's call!

When: Friday through Saturday, October 19 - 20, 2018

Where: West Virginia Institute of Spirituality
1601 Virginia Street East
Charleston, WV 25311

Program offering: $100 per person, meals included

Housing: $46 per night at WVIS, please register early

Session Leaders: WVIS Associates will facilitate different parts of the weekend.

Thoughts from participants from previous Continuing Professional Development programs:

“A cup of cool water, a comfy blanket, and a slow exhalation of contentment, a sense of coming home and being home, a meeting place of treasured companions, a tending of the fire.” Diane Shoaf

“Informative and Formative.” Fr. Bill Petro

“It is in this gathering that I am renewed, inspired, loved, affirmed and my yes deepens to go the distance.”
Cindy Neely

Each year provides “opportunities to fine-tune our strengths and shortcomings by experiencing the strengths and growing edges of our colleagues.” Bob Sylvester

“...helps me connect to myself and my call, to God, and to this wonderful growing Community which is so life-giving!” Eileen Chwalibog

“A time to savor how the Mystery of Grace moves among us.” Sr. Carole Riley
