

Donna Becher is a member of Blessed Sacrament Catholic Church in South Charleston. She is currently studying for her certification in Spiritual Direction under the supervision of Sr. Carole Riley, CDP, Ph.D., Executive Director of the West Virginia Institute for Spirituality in Charleston.

She is on West Virginia's diocesan board of Catholic Campaign for Human Development, the anti-poverty arm of the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops and is past chair of Catholic Committee of Appalachia. She has been a liturgical musician for decades, sings in Blessed Sacrament's choir, plays piano for Sacred Heart School Masses, is involved with Bible studies, the peace and justice committee, and Lunch Bunch at Blessed Sacrament. Prior to coming to West Virginia, she was an active parishioner in her parish, St. Monica-St. George, Cincinnati, Ohio, where she lectured and was active on the Scriptures Anew team, which planned retreats and workshops on such things as a Vatican II Anniversary series, Lectio Divina during Lent, various workshops and book studies on topics from Thomas Merton's Sophia (hosted by Dr. Christopher Pramuk,) to Hildegard of Bingen. At her prior parish, St. Agnes in Ft. Wright, Kentucky, she served as accompanist and substitute director for the music ministry, was on Parish Council, and, on two separate occasions, facilitated Christ Renews His Parish programs as spiritual director, was a lector and Eucharistic Minister.
